

Dear neighbor,

For some people, every day is more about survival than living. Just getting through work, chores, and dealing with relationships can seem to sap the life out of us. We believe that life is to be embraced and lived with joy and excitement. The question is: how do you do that? As a new church in our community, we are going to focus our attention on why life can have meaning and purpose when it is based around eternal truths rather than the everyday details. So, please join us for a special event for our community.
