

MODULE 4: DEVELOPING A RESIDENCY

Wondering how your church can develop residents within the context of your current congregation? Clint Clifton reveals how residency programs identify and equip the missional leaders of tomorrow, both locally and around the world. Listen as Clint demystifies the buildout process and reveals how you can start training your leaders from within to raise up pastors and planters of the multiplication movement.

NOTES

The Only Ingredient

Priorities and Potential

Equipping Over Calling

REFLECTION QUESTIONS

The next great pastors and church planters are already in our congregations. How does this idea change the way we lead our churches and seek out new planters?

How can you start small and simple to develop leaders within your church?

Consider the most impactful mentors in your life and what they taught you. How can you similarly mentor new leaders through a residency program?