Myth: Every local church needs a building and a pastor.

Myth: Every local church has a paid staff.

Questions

Have you struggled with any of these myths in bivocational ministry? If so, how did God redirect your heart to serve Him faithfully?

If calling is based on people, place, and need, how has God called you to serve in each of these three areas?

How are you preparing to lead in ministry, with or without a full-time income?
