Questions

Which statistic surprised you in this research? Why? With which statistic(s) do you most relate? How so?

To which extreme do you fall as a bivocational pastor in your employment status: no outside job or a full-time outside job? How does your status impact your ministry

If bivocational pastors typically experience a deficit in support and help, how have you responded to this tension? What have you learned that may encourage other bivocational pastors or those considering ministry

Based on your own experience, is bivocational ministry better, worse or just different? How so?
